THE OPPORTUNITY TO write a column in the absence of George Vierhus presents enormous possibilities. Since George told me I could write on any subject I desired, the problem has been one of trying to settle upon an idea that would be meaningful to you and appropriate for the time.

With that in mind I would beg your indulgence while I attempt to write out some of my thoughts on what I consider the most critical problem facing us today - the growing lack of communication and understanding between government and the citizens they serve.

FROM MY POSITION AS Executive Director of the Santa Clara County Taxpayers' Association I have had the opportunity to observe this problem directly. As an organization we attempt to recognize the needs of government - which, in the final analysis, are the needs of us as citizens of our respective communities.

Governments, whether they are a school district, city or county, have tended to become distant, monolithic and inbred. It has been said that it makes little difference who is elected President of the United States because the bureaucracy will continue to function exactly as it pleases.

This is true not only at the federal level but state government faces the same kind of situation. Local governments, to a degree, suffer from the same forces of entrenchment which often prevent new ideas and concepts from being introduced into the operations of their agencies.

ALL OF THIS, WHEN considered as a flow process of time, has contributed to the lack of understanding between governmental officials and the public. A second aspect of the problem has been the tremendous increase in the demands placed on government for services and the inability of our tax structure to raise the revenue to finance those programs.

I would make the point that governmental spending is not a self-generating process. It begins with some person or group raising a question or making a demand. How the agency reacts to that demand will determine the fiscal requirement.

For the sake of discussion let us assume the legitimacy of the requests being made. We live with an antiquated and unresponsive tax structure that cannot be considered as equitable to any group within the economy. However the politically popular phrase calling for a closing of the "loopholes" is only a part of the picture. As often happens when legislators begin to deal with complex problems they immediately oversimplify the answer.

I submit, however, that this reaction may be basic to the society and therefore not considered the exclusive right of the politician. I would only point out the most recent case of a closing of a loophole that could cost all property taxpayers substantially more.

City Council faces third screen again

That bothersome question of what to do about that "land-locked" parcel adjacent to Winchester Drive-in Theater on which the theater owners want to put a third screen, will again face the City Council next Monday night, Oct. 27.

However, there will be no discussion from the floor on the vexing problem because the hearing on the issue was closed at the last meeting, so only Council members will sound off Monday.

The six-acre parcel is now zoned for multiple housing which prohibits drive-in theaters. Syfy Enterprises, owners of the property as well as the present two-screen Winchester Drive-in Theater, want the zone changed so that a third screen can be located on the parcel.

Lack of access to the property at the present time has complicated the problem. If a third screen is located on it, access is no problem, for it will be part of the present movie operation and the present entrances and exits will be used.

But unless access is provided in some manner, no multiple housing project can ever be developed on it, it has been explained.

City Attorney Joe Bonacina was directed by the City Council to study the legal aspects of the issue, especially in the area of easements, etc.

Most of the councilmen have indicated that the question of access first must be decided before any final decision on the zoning is made.

Residents in the area, especially those residing in the mobile home park adjacent to the theater, have vigorously protested the suggestion of a third screen.

The theater owners during the past months have attempted to improve the traffic pattern for the area and have indicated that they will cooperate further with the city in improving the traffic flow to and from the theaters.

Two appeals are also on the Council's agenda for next Monday. Douglas Oil Co. is appealing a ruling of the Planning Commission which rejected a setback variance for the service station at Winchester and Hamilton.

Roundhouse Liquors in the Kirkwood Plaza through Ad Art sign firm is appealing the denial by the Planning Commission of their request for a larger roof sign than the one that is presently on the building.

Residents on E. Rosemary Lane in Campbell have appealed to the City Council to assist them in their efforts to keep the Colonial apartments, which back up to them, from overrunning their backyards.

In a letter to the Council, Mrs. Ruth Lindeke, of 95 E. Rosemary Lane, complains of the noise and trash that spills over from the apartments because of the lack of adequate fencing. The apartments are in San Jose, while protesting residents are in Campbell.

Discussion of the perennial problem of on-street parking by West Valley College students is also scheduled by the councilmen for next Monday night.

The meeting next Monday night will be opened by Girl Scout Troop No. 878, under the leadership of Mrs. Roxie Clapes, who will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

It's family life again Thursday

Whether or not Family Life Education classes will be scheduled in the Campbell Elementary School District, is expected to be decided Thursday, Oct. 23 at the next regular meeting of the Campbell Union School District Board of Trustees meeting.

The meeting will be held in the Campbell Elementary School multi-purpose room, 295 Cherry Lane, at 7 p.m. and is open to the public.

At a special meeting of the trustee board held Sept. 22, board members listened for over three hours as over 400 interested parents both pro and con discussed the controversial FLE program and presented their reasons for accepting or rejecting the course.

Campbell Drugs gets new owner

L. E. (Bill) Means, druggist in town for 25 years, sells local store

L.E. (Bill) Means, an active civic leader and businessman in this community for the past 25 years, this week announced that the "Campbell Drugs", which he established in the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer in 1956, has been sold to Harold (Hal) Sofris, of Los Gatos.

The new owner took over the operation on Saturday, Oct. 18.

Prior to the establishment of the Campbell Drugs in 1956, Means had been associated since 1944 with Clark's Drugs, (now out of business) which was located at Campbell Ave., and Harrison.

Sofris, 32, who received his Pharm. Dr. degree from the University of Southern California in 1959, has been employed as pharmacy manager of Gemco for the past five years. He will be sole owner of the Campbell Drugs.

Since 1966, the Campbell Drugs has been a corporation with Earl Nichols and Harvey Swenson associated with Means in the firm. Prior to 1966, the Campbell Drugs was operated under the sole ownership of Means.

Means, who had been the manager of Clark's Drugs after the death of Dan Clark, founded Campbell Drugs in partnership with the late Mrs.

Clark, widow of Dan, in 1956. Means operated both stores for a time.

Subsequently he purchased the interests of Mrs. Clark in Campbell Drugs.

No personnel changes are planned by Sofris at the present time. Nichols will continue for the time being as associated with him in the pharmacy department of the store.

Means plans to "take it easy" for a short time and then anticipates to "fill in" as a pharmacist in the general area. He and his wife, Virginia, will continue to reside in Campbell.

With the "retirement" of Means from the business community of Campbell, the number of "pioneer" businessmen in the community (those with 15 years of continuous service) drops to a new low.

A cursory examination reveals that only two businessmen in town Lowell Benson, of Campbell Cleaners, and Hans Hansen of Taste Good Bakery, remain of the "old guard", with 15 or more years of continuous business operation in the community.

Means during the past 25 years has had an active role in community activities. He served for seven years as a trustee of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District and has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for more than 20 years, serving as president in 1958.

More recently he was a member of the executive committee of the successful civic center improvement bond issue in 1967 and has been a long-time member of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Both the Means' daughters, Patricia (Mrs. Bill Lamson) and Marilyn are graduates of Campbell High. Pat, with a master's degree from San Jose State, now lives in Cupertino with her husband and two sons, Scott and Jeff, and is engaged in specialized educational activities for school districts.

Marilyn, a graduate in pharmacy from the University of Pacific, is employed as a pharmacist in San Francisco.

Although this is the first store that Sofris, the new owner of Campbell Drugs, has owned, he has had ten years of experience in the pharmacy field, in the general area, the last five years of which he had been manager of the pharmacy department at Gemco.

His wife, Sandra, is a graduate of San Jose State and is now working towards her master's degree at SJS in art history.

At BPW dinner

State treasurer to speak Friday

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, California State Treasurer, will be the keynote speaker at the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club dinner to be held Friday, Oct. 24 at the Villa Felice, 15350 Winchester Blvd., Los Gatos.

Honored during the dinner will be Mrs. Edith Morley, a long-time BPW member and a member of the Park and Recreation Commission. She has been an active civic worker for many years.

Mrs. Morley served on the Park Commission since its inception, and on various park committees for the formation of the commission and was instrumental in helping select the location of Campbell's first park.

She served on the Citizens committee for the successful civic bond election in Oct., 1967 and also for the more recent park bond issue in June. She has been active in the American Legion Auxiliary for many years.

Mrs. Morley resides at 649 El Patio Drive and is a native of England. She has lived in Campbell for the past 39 years and has always shown an active interest in civic affairs since the incorporation of the city. She was a member of the park committee, predecessor to the commission and is the only remaining charter member of the commission.

The dinner hour will start at 6:45 p.m., according to Mrs. Dorothy Trevethan, Campbell BPW president. This will be the second annual dinner honoring an active BPW member in recognition of the National Business Women's week.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest is California's 25th state treasurer, and the only woman to hold the position and also the first woman voted in to serve in any of California's seven top constitutional offices.

Mrs. Priest has served in many capacities and was appointed treasurer of the United States under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Gas station barely gets by Commission

A gas station as part of a new 780-unit apartment complex and commercial center and a restaurant in the old Sunsweet packing plant received the blessing of the Planning Commission Monday night.

A proposed service station on E. Hamilton for the commercial-apartment development planned for the former Gomes Ranch barely eked out approval of the Planning Commission Monday night.

But 50 per cent of the shopping center must be under way before a building permit for the station can be used.

Two commissioners (Chairman Ed Pack and Thayer Lyons) were absent so it was by a 3-2 vote that the gas station won out and it was touch and go all the way.

In the final countdown,

Merrill Grim (acting chairman), Norm Paul and Dale Scott voted for approval of the gas station after tacking on a couple of conditions, specifying that the station must be a reverse plan type and that landscaping must be approved by the Commission.

Voting against the station were Jack Healey and Frank Klein.

By a previous 3-2 vote, a motion by Scott to continue the matter to Nov. 3 was lost. Healey sided with Scott on that motion.

Almost all of the commissioners indicated that they did not favor any more stations in town. However, it was pointed out that the station did meet the conditions spelled out in the city ordinance which specifies that stations can go in 5-acre centers or at intersections of two four-lane roads.

In this case, the commercial center is six acres, although the proposed extension of Third St. (from Latimer to Hamilton) would only be two-lane where it intersects Hamilton.

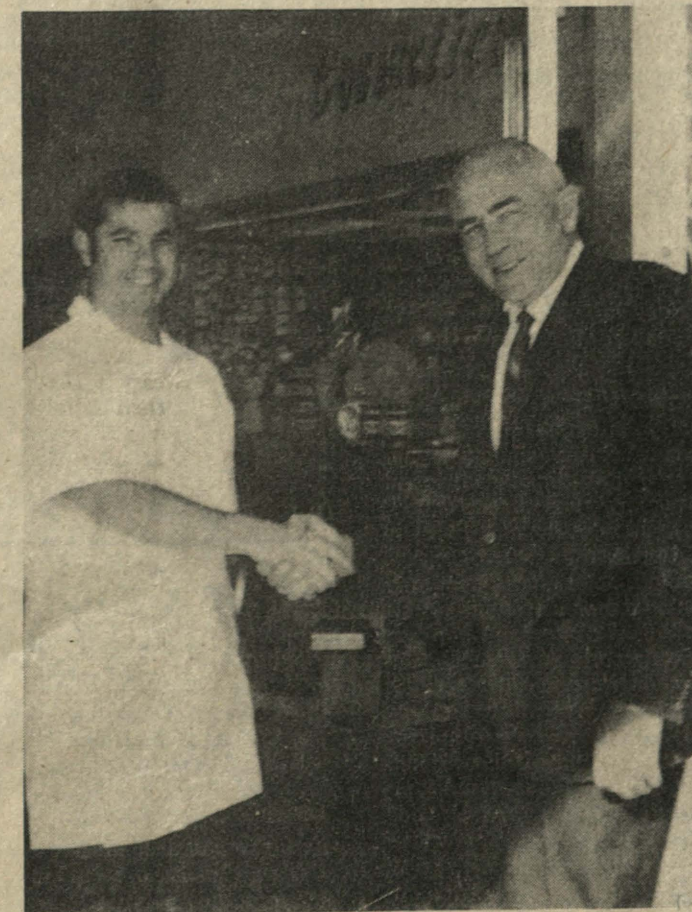

The over-abundance of service stations in Campbell was stressed by opponents of the new station for the development on the Gomes Ranch which, in addition to the commercial center along Hamilton, anticipates a 780-unit apartment complex for the

The board's decision

The Campbell Press does not intend to get involved in the controversy that is now waging over Family Life Education.

More than 400 interested parents attended the recent hearing that was held on the subject and approximately 55 persons took the mike at the meeting to express their views on the subject.

Both sides of the issue had their say.

The basic argument used by those opposing the schools getting involved in the program is that it was felt that moral education should be left to the parents.

However, those who argued that the schools should have such a program maintained that there was a need to fortify the education of the home and that the family unit was in real danger.

Obviously a good case can be presented on either side of the issue.

On October 23, the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District may make a decision as what way the Campbell school district is to go.

At the mass meeting on the issue, no conclusions were made by the board members present. They listened intently and attentively to the pro and con arguments presented, mindful of the fact that it was their responsibility to put the program in effect or not.

Perhaps it is a responsibility that they would prefer to relinquish. But they recognize that they must act.

We have confidence in the board members and we feel certain that whatever action they take will be only after they have considered every facet of the situation.

Obviously the hearing was no place for the board to make its decision, for the meeting was charged with emotion. It is an issue that fosters emotions.

The board has the advantage of the experience of the pilot program that was conducted last year to base its decision, which undoubtedly will have some basis in the decision.

We have no idea what the trustees will do on Oct. 23.

But we sincerely hope that the citizens of this community, no matter how deeply they feel on the issue, will accept the board's decision with good grace.

The trustees are representing the people in as sincere a manner as they are able.

But it is impossible to please everyone.

Teeth for the guards

Two legislators from this county, State Senator Clark Bradley and Assemblyman Earle J. Crandall, are largely responsible "for giving teeth" to school crosswalk guards so that the guards can do a more effective job in enforcement of traffic regulations.

In the past many motorists have taken directions from the crosswalk guards rather loosely, for until recent legislation, the guards had no legal authority to direct traffic or issue tickets.

A new penal code section, authored by Bradley and Crandall, makes it a misdemeanor: "For any person to disregard any traffic signal or direction of a non-student school crossing guard authorized by a police department or the Highway Patrol when he is wearing an official insignia and in course of his duties."

Sections of the State Education Code made it illegal to disregard signals of student guards, but before the new law, paid adult guards had not the same advantage.

Many drivers have been ignoring the directions of the crosswalk guards, driving through stop signs and endangering the lives of children traveling to and coming from school.

Crosswalk guards have been performing a tremendous job for communities in spite of their lack of legal authority to cite offenders.

This new law will put needed muscle on their powers of enforcement.

It is really too bad that a law like this was needed, that there even had to be a law, and the penalties accompanying its violation, to make drivers observe the safety directions of crosswalk guards.

Unfortunately, according to reports by many crossing guards, errant and arrogant motorists have ignored the signals of the guards in the past.

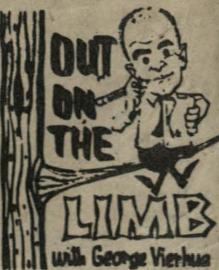

They have zoomed through the intersections and marked crosswalks without regard for a corner full of children waiting to cross the street.

Last spring the courts were forced to throw out tickets issued by frustrated guards because of no protection in the State Penal Code to fine or penalize drivers.

Now, thanks to State Senator Clark Bradley and Assemblyman Earle Crandall, guards have that provision.

They have the power to direct traffic and issue orders and cite offenders.

was a response to one of these so-called loopholes. The assumption was that since the holders of these bonds did not pay taxes on the income a loophole therefore existed. However, by making the income from the bonds taxable, it meant that the interest rates on governmental bonds increased accordingly.

This meant that government agencies in offering bonds for sale were paying higher interest rates and taxpayers, in the end, were paying the additional cost.

The basic point is that the so-called tax reform programs that are so highly discussed in speeches laced with terms like "equity," "ability to pay" and the popular "close the loopholes" must be considered in light of the total ramifications of the proposal.

The loopholes do exist and reforms are long overdue but a meat ax approach could be more damaging in the end.

LET ME RETURN TO the issue of the structure itself.

We all agree that the property tax bears an undue portion of the cost of local government. Last year voters defeated a proposal to limit the property tax to one percent of fair market value.

It is probable that a similar proposal will be on the ballot again next year. The proposal of last year did much more than simply limit the property tax to one percent and the new proposal, if less drastic in its effect, could be adopted.

This would leave governmental agencies with the difficult task of allocating revenues to the competing demands which would be a difficult task. It would also mean that new sources of revenue would have to be found.

Whether it is the income, sales, cigarette or liquor taxes the fact is that reform is more often a case of shifting the tax burden from one tax to another.

Tax reform is not identical to tax reduction!

IN THE LAST FEW months there has been an increasing discussion of two items related to tax reform.

The first calls for the creation of a "gross margins tax". This tax is used in many European countries and is being seriously discussed in many states. The concept calls for the levy of a tax of the value added to goods or services by the producer.

In other words the tax would be on the difference between the cost labor and materials and the sales of the producer. It has been described as a type of sales tax to be paid directly by the producer and indirectly on the consumer.

It is also interesting because the rate structure, based upon the best information available, could be very low and still produce substantial revenues.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL that has been studied with growing interest calls for an end to the property tax on what are called "improvements" - homes, buildings, etc. and tax only the land.

The argument is that equal taxation of land and improvements encourages low density development, higher costs to government to provide necessary services such as sewers and streets and because of the low density development the productivity of land is reduced. It is further argued that people are discouraged from improving property because the assessor then is obligated to increase the value, hence an increase in taxes.

The advocates feel that by not taxing improvements people will be encouraged to build and re-build thus adding to the total economy. The problem of deteriorating core areas of our large cities might be reversed by such a policy since people would wish to have a higher utilization of the land in order to pay the taxes and to increase their profit.

The fact is that alternatives to the property tax are being proposed and discussed seriously. We all complain about the slow movement of government.

However pressure, appropriately applied by a concerned and aroused public, can perform miracles.

NOW, LET ME DISCUSS spending as a means of tax reduction. People write and phone daily discussing taxes and generally state the opinion that "government spends too much."

I think it is important to discuss that argument in terms of specifics rather than a general condemnation of government.

I could list many, many specific areas where I believe government spends too much. I suggest that we have almost minimum utilization of the facilities of government. For example, it is not popular to discuss the possibility of two shifts in various departments of government because employees are accustomed to the regular working day. Two shifts are not unusual in private industry and it might be reasonable to do the same in government.

The under utilization of public school facilities is an obvious waste. The elementary and high schools of our State, built on expensive land with ten and twenty-five acre minimums, being used nine months a year and less than eight hours a day is an expensive luxury which we cannot long afford.

The list could go on but the point has been made. The need is for citizens to understand the problem and act accordingly.

Again the problem cannot be solved with a meat ax. It requires thought and consideration. The citizen, acting either individually or through a group must be able to propose new answers and not simply berate government for "inefficiency, waste or corruption."

SLOGANS AND RECRIMINATIONS only serve to divide people at a time when the need is for mutual consideration. As an Association we have found governmental agencies, with some exceptions, ready and willing to discuss proposals for change. It is human nature to defend one's self when attacked.

For too long "government" and the "citizen" have been viewed as antagonists. From our own experience we do not find this to be the case.

They have finally been given the authority and the legal power to protect the school children.

We are confident that the crossing guards will use their new-found muscle with good judgment.

The guards have an important function to perform but with the new authority that now goes with their jobs, they must use good judgment in their duties.

And all must remember that it is the lives of the kids that are at stake.

Community involvement seen in WV college superintendent salaction

All segments of the college community will be involved in the interviews pertaining to the selection of a new superintendent for West Valley College.

That was the agreement made by trustees at their meeting Thursday night when reconsideration of the role of a screening committee for selecting a superintendent was discussed.

The board agreed that all members of the screening committee (including the seven board members and the presidents of the faculty senate, the college chapter of the California School Employees Association and the student body) would conduct interviews with the final 10 applicants agreed upon by the screening committee. Prior to Thursday's decision only the board was going to interview the final 10 applicants.

In a 5-2 decision, the board agreed that all segments of the college has to be included in selecting the final 10 applicants, but the final decision had to be left to the board. Board member Robert Brydon dissented, saying the "employees should not hire their employer."

Interviews of the applicants will not begin until Jan. 16, with final selection to be made sometime in April.

The board deferred any action Thursday night on a report made by the superintendent which included a recommendation by the West Valley College Advisory Committee on the proposed bond issue. The board set its first meeting in November as time for discussion on this item.

In other action, the board:

1. Awarded a bid of $163,950 to Maxdon Construction Company of Santa Clara for construction of four basketball and eight tennis courts on the Saratoga campus. Construction will begin immediately and it is expected that all courts will be in operation by the beginning of the spring semester in 1970.

2. Authorized filing an application with the Coordinating Council for Higher Education (the state agency for the receiving of applications for federal grants under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963) for a maximum grant ($500,000) toward construction of the business education - student personnel - administrative building on the Saratoga campus. If approved the funds will need to be matched with local and/or state funds.

THE SCHISMS WITHIN our society need not be increased by further misunderstandings.

I think we have proved, by the experience we have in Campbell, that citizens working with government can produce progress.

Citizen interest, participation and understanding in Campbell, together with the effective leadership of the City government has produced a community consensus.

This can be done at other levels of government if people work together.

As an Association we will continue to work with all groups and citizens interested in solving problems.

We welcome the interest and participation of all persons who wish to work positively for the most effective and efficient use of our tax dollars.

financial claims totaling $173,986.83.

5. Approved a contract with the Santa Clara Unified School District for that district to provide limited bus service for students from the Alviso-Agnew district to the college.

6. Approved the addition of seven new course offerings to the college curriculum.

7. Approved attendance by district employees at 16 educational conferences or meetings for the month of October.

8. Awarded a bid in the amount of $5,291 to the Photo and Sound Co. for science audio-visual equipment.

It was stated that there are 17 stations on Hamilton now within the city limits and now more than 50 within the city limits.

By a 4-1 vote (Klein dissenting) the Commission on Monday approved the application of Stanley Becker for a parking area and restaurant in the old Sunsweet packing plant.

Becker explained that he had made arrangements to obtain 92 parking spaces in an area adjacent to the Sunsweet building he owns and that he also planned to use 5700 square feet of the first floor of the three-story warehouse for a restaurant.

He explained that if the first phase in the conversion of the warehouse called "The Wrinkled Prune Annex" was successful, he planned to convert the entire three floors into restaurants and art galleries.

Commissioner Klein indicated that efforts should be made to dress up the exterior of the building as well as the interior. But Becker said he has no plans to do anything to the outside.

In other actions, the Commission approved plans for an 8-unit apartment at 1305-1319 W. Campbell Ave. for Roland Bruntz and for a 13-unit apartment at 170 W. Rincon for Dennis Burrow.

Approved also were plans for a storage shed for Dalziel Plumbing at 197 Curtner and for an industrial building at 381 Division for Warren J. Mapes.

Alexander Vierra, Jr. also won approval for a recreation room for a 10-unit apartment complex at 270 Dunster.

The application of West Valley Senior Action Center at 41 W. Rincon, for extension of one year for the use permit for the duplex now used for a senior citizens center was also approved.

The original use permit was granted to United Progreso Arriba. That organization, however, is not involved in the new permit.

Wallace D. Perry was granted an extension of one year for his use permit to construct a convalescent hospital at Pollard and Burrows roads and the Commission denied the zone change request of R. V. Cloud from CM to M-1-S for property at 301 E. Hacienda.

The zone change of V. A. Deverain for property at Hamilton and Almarida was approved.

While most people who sell by telephone are considerate, once in awhile you'll find someone who rudely persists — even after you've told them politely that you're not interested in what they're selling. In such a case, my advice is to simply hang up. Of course, if the caller continues to bother you, be sure and contact your Campbell Business Office at 288-9000. We want your telephone to be a convenience.

This year Californians are celebrating the state's bicentennial — the 200th anniversary of the founding of the first settlement in San Diego by the Spanish. In keeping with the celebration of this important first step in our history, official state commemorative medallions have been struck from both bronze and silver. These distinctive medallions carry the state symbol, a grizzly bear, on the face; and figures symbolic of the state's history on the reverse side. They're available for purchase at most banks and at savings and loan associations in Campbell.

Pay phones are usually in busy places where they're convenient to the passerby. Places like hotel lobbies and main thoroughfares. So the spotlighted phone booth on the roof of a building was the source of much speculation. Among those whose curiosity was aroused by this "booth in the sky" was a helicopter-borne traffic reporter who began asking questions. The explanation: the building belongs to one of the companies that manufactures our phone booths — and while a roof top may be a novel location for one, it makes for some unusual conversation!

St. Lucy's Church scene of recent wedding

MR. AND MRS. DWIGHT CROSSEN

Judy Diane Barbano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barbano of Campbell, became the bride of Dwight Ezra Crossen in a recent afternoon wedding ceremony held in St. Lucy's Church. Officiating was the Rev. John Brennan.

A princess style silk organza gown enhanced with lace and seed pearls was chosen by the bride for her wedding day, complemented with a shoulder length illusion veil held by an organza and pearl rosette. The lovely brunette bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, roses and camellia leaves centered around an orchid as she went to meet her bridegroom.

Judy asked her sister, Mrs. Charlene Case of Campbell to be her honor attendant and Miss Pat Barbano, a cousin, to serve as bridesmaid. Both were gowned alike in lime green princess style gowns of chiffon and taffeta and carried nosegay bouquets of yellow daisy mums.

A Campbell High School graduate, Judy received her A.S. degree in medical assisting from West Valley College and is employed in Saratoga. Dwight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crossen of Campbell and is also a Campbell High School graduate. He is presently enrolled at West Valley College as an accounting major and is employed at Food Machinery Corporation.

Gordon Case stood with Dwight as best man while ushering duties were fulfilled by Dave Jones and Paul Barbano.

For the wedding day Mrs. Barbano wore a blue lace and crepe ensemble, while Mrs. Case chose a pink silk dress, both mothers complementing their ensembles with white orchid corsages.

Following the wedding ceremony the newly-weds greeted their guests at a buffet dinner and dance reception held at the Little New Yorker before leaving on their honeymoon to Carmel.

MISS SANDY KEMP

Rainbow Girls install Miss Kemp as worthy advisor

"God's Beauty Surrounds Us" was the theme chosen for the recent nineteenth installation of officers of the Campbell Assembly No. 235, International Order of the Rainbow for Girls. With the officers appointed and elected forming a cross in front of the altar, Miss Sandy Kemp of Campbell, Worthy Advisor, was escorted to the altar.

A vocal selection "How Great Thou Art" was sung by Miss Lori Nelson of Campbell. The Los Gatos Masonic temple was decorated in the color scheme of red, white and silver with the American Beauty Rose as the flower.

Sandy was presented with her mascot, a fluffy owl, by the line officers in a hilarious skit. Installation ceremonies were concluded by a speech given by Sandy on her theme, followed by a reception and dance.

Newly-installed officers for the ensuing term include Jeanne Perry, worthy associate/advisor; Claudine Duren, charity; Karen Balkow, hope; Sue Anshutz, faith; JoAnn Proctor, treasurer; Penny Clark, recorder; Debbie Takacs, chaplain; Linda Kemp, drill leader; Lynda Fry, love; Cheryl Marshall, religion; Julie Jones, nature; Kathy Mancebo, immortality; Diane Payne, fidelity; Joan Nesbitt, patriotism; Debbie Dennis, service; Diana Short, confidential observer; Oma Poss, outer observer; Priscilla Worthington, musician and Marcie Jones, choir director.

Bohnett School holds flea market sale

Do you have a bulging garage or closet that you'd like to empty before the holidays get here? Then the Bohnett School Flea Market can help you!

On Saturday, Nov. 1 the Bohnett Home and School Club plans to have a Flea Market at the Bohnett parking lot, 2275 S. Bascom Ave. from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. A marked off 10x20 sales space may be rented for just $2.50. Bring your own table, and the school will supply the space, the market theme and the advertising. All money made on the sales belongs to the seller.

A refreshment stand will be set up by the Home and School Club.

To reserve space call Jean Goodman at 377-6675. Space will be limited, and reservations will be on a first come, first serve basis.

APPOINTED

Ralph Doetsch, Sr., has been appointed Campbell city chairman for the Danny Thomas March for ALSAC (Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children) which will be held Nov. 9.

STUDENT PRICES

All holders of student body cards from all schools will be able to attend the Wednesday night, Oct. 22 and 29 performances of the Saratoga Drama group production of "Mame", at student prices.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the highly successful presentation of the Broadway musical. A few tickets are also left for the Oct. 31 performance.

A GHOSTLY GOOD TIME—Mrs. Clyde Hamilton, decoration chairman, is busily finishing off the ghost pictures that will be used as part of the decorations of the Oct. 25 Halloween Dance being sponsored by St. Lucy's YLI. Seated, Mrs. Edward Space and Mrs. Douglas Schultz are fixing up a jack-o-lantern and skeleton to go along with the dance theme.

St. Lucy's YLI sets Oct. 25 for costume dance

Get out your Halloween costume and prepare for a good time on Oct. 25 when members of St. Lucy's YLI will sponsor their annual Halloween dance, to be held in Kennelly Hall.

Mrs. Clyde Hamilton and Mrs. Yvonne Boudreault, chairmen of the decoration committee have concocted up some delightful surprises in the decorations department. Admission price of $2 per person includes dancing to the "Starnighters" with snacks available throughout the evening and a buffet supper late in the evening.

Mrs. Edward Space is chairman for the evening assisted by Mesdames Charles O'Reilly, Theodore Green, William Kirmayer, William Dixon, Lyle Ambelang, Douglas Schultz, Robert Westphall, and Miss Alice McKay and Miss Doris French. All of the ladies have tickets for the evening of fun and dancing.

Del Mar Dateline

Rally Club is responsible for our great school spirit this year. Ann Shannon, president of Rally Club, keeps a tally of points for members who attend games and help out in rallies. Two hundred points are necessary to try out for cheerleader or song girl at the end of the year.

Congratulations to Ruth Hampton who was elected the Don's mascot for the 1969-70 year.

For the first session at Redwood Glen School, Mr. Wallace, senior counselor, selected Steve Donato, Mary Ann Chalmers, Lorraine Gage, Paula Green, Ty Homuth and Jackie Kavelage to participate as counselors for sixth graders. After attending the first session the six seniors felt it to be a rewarding experience.

"You Can't Take It With You" is the title for this year's senior play to be held Nov. 13, 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Kendall, drama director, selected John Cali as Grandpa, Bill Longiotti as Tony, Cathy Crowell as Alice, Melinda Suto as Penny, Rusty Brown as Kolendow and Tom Cavalier as Mr. Kirby.

Earl Poytress is the editor-in-chief of Del Mar's Galleon for the first semester. Other editors chosen by Mrs. Brannum journalism advisor, are Sharon Farmer, news editor; John Cali, feature editor; Joe Lipkos, sports editor; Pam Goldstien, exchange editor; and Nancy Lemon, copy editor. The new staff's first paper will be issued Oct. 24.

Don's Varsity and Frosh-Soph football teams were dumped by Prospect last Thursday and Friday. Varsity score was 22-7 with a touchdown by Jerry Craft. Frosh-Soph was defeated 20-0.

Del Mar cleaned up at the Cross-Country Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 4 at West Valley College.

Chuck Slingstad, Terry Bradford, Pat Rexroad, Steve Deutinger and George Pyne led the Varsity to a unanimous score. Junior Varsity won 4 out of 10 ribbons led by Steve Marsh.

The highlight of the invitational was the overall team trophy also obtained by Del Mar. The jogging Dons remained undefeated in every division during the meet with Blackford, allowing only one Brave to place in the top 7. Keep up the good work, Cross-Country!

Letters to the Editor

UNICYCLE

Dear Editor:

Enclosed is a picture I thought you might be interested in printing in The Campbell Press as a matter concerning one of our Campbell Elementary School District schools. The boy in the picture is Mike Houser, an 8th grade sousaphone player in the band of Cypress School, 403 Cypress Ave.

When Mr. Ralph Dill, our principal, told me he had seen Mike transporting himself and the sousaphone to school on his bicycle, I became alarmed and warned Mike that such a procedure was unsafe for both himself and the instrument, which happens to be owned by the school.

It was then rumored by some of the other students that he had even carried it to school while riding his unicycle—a feat I could not believe possible. Mike was happy to perform the miracle for me as I snapped the picture. (Mike seems to be enamored of large musical instruments, as well as trick cycling, for he also plays the bass violin in the Cypress Orchestra.)

I'm sure Mike, Cypress School, and I, as the school's instrumental music teacher, would greatly appreciate your printing of the picture. It certainly represents a demonstration of loyalty to our school and its organizations.

Thank you for your excellent community newspaper. My wife and I have been regular readers since our arrival to this area in 1952.

Yours truly,
Wallace Johnson,
Instrumental Music Teacher, Cypress School

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

WE'RE NUMBER ONE! With the Panther's 22-7 win over Del Mar last Friday, Prospect is tied with Los Gatos for first place in the West Valley League. Panther Frosh/Soph also beat Del Mar last Thursday.

Friday Prospect gridders take on Leigh on the Panther field at 3:30. Leigh is currently in second place in the league.

Varsity football Coach Earl Adams had this to say about the league championship, "Although it would be quite rare for a second year team to win the varsity football championship, we, at this time, certainly have that opportunity."

Juniors have just finished their annual magazine sale, which is held to raise the money needed for such events as the Junior Prom, Senior Ball, and the Senior Sneak Day. A record album was given to each student who sold $50 or more in subscriptions. These students include Ann Berg, Greg Emery, Susan MacLine, Laura Aronson and Mark Rager.

Drama Commission held a Flea Market Sale on October 11. They made a profit of $25, which will be used to buy lights for the stage and materials for scenery.

RED DYE

The red dye made from the cochineal bug of Mexico was used to color the red coats of the British regulars and also of the first detachments of Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Hank Santoro Says

I wonder if they took the test out of protest, would protesters be pro anything—or just testy.

Campbell Corners

By Cindy Harris

Eight thousand, five hundred dollars has been made on student body card sales as of Monday, Oct. 13 according to the figures given at the Student Council meeting held that same afternoon.

Other subjects were also brought up at the meeting. Among them was the announcement that we will have a radio in the cafeteria during both lunches soon. The station chosen to listen to is KSJO.

Two dances are coming up at Campbell. One is a dance put on by Girls' Sports. It will be held on Oct. 24 and the band providing the tunes is Lotion. Prospect High School has been invited to attend the dance, too.

The second dance will be held on Nov. 21, and is a Student Body dance. The band playing has not been announced.

This year's Council is made up by councilmen Tom Carey, Bill McCall, Dave Akina and Pete Wildermann. Jim Royer is student body president; Ed Guerra, vice-president; Jim Gaddis, secretary; Terry Young, student manager; and Bob Hamilton, assistant student manager.

Congratulations to Campbell's varsity for defeating Camden's varsity 21 to 0 in last Friday's game. Pete Dardanelli was named Player-of-the-Week for his superior efforts in playing defensive end.

"Pete kept a lot of pressure on Camden's quarterback and wouldn't let him get by with much of anything," stated Coach Al Matthews, relating to Pete's performance.

This Friday Campbell meets Branham on Campbell's field for the varsity game. Thursday is the frosh-soph game at Branham.

Camden Chatter

By DEBBIE UNDERWOOD

Due to the fact that I spent last week counseling sixth-grade students up at Redwood Glen School Camp in the Santa Cruz mountains, Camden Chatter did not appear in last week's issue. I found working with the students a very rewarding experience and encourage all seniors to take advantage of the opportunity sometime this school year.

Camden's Speech and Debate team will match wits with other schools in its second tournament of the year at Monte Vista High School on Nov. 15. The category of speeches at the meet will be "Individual Events."

Approximately 500 students from 21 schools participated in the N.F.L. (National Forensic League) contest held at Camden on Saturday, Oct. 11. Camden students Steve Pond and Dean Daily were the high scorers from Camden. Both made four speeches, with a maximum of three points per speech, and ended up with ten points apiece. Steve Larson, seven points, and John Lindvall, six points, were the other high scorers from Camden.

The Congress discussed such bills as "Abolishment of the C.I.A.," "Abolishment of Censorship of Pornographic Material," and the "Hickenlooper Bill" which is a bill meaning any country that takes American property will cease to receive American Foreign Aid.

Mr. Osorio would like to extend thanks to all parents and pages who helped make this possible by serving as messengers between rooms during the Congress. Again, Camden Speech and Debate Club says "thank you."

Freshman coffee hours were held last week. Parents were given a tour of freshman classes following a meeting where the school administration was introduced and Mr. Willson, Class of '73 counselor, gave a small talk on the school curriculum.

Camden has started a new before-school breakfast program held in the cafeteria every morning from 7:45 to 8:30. Students may purchase orange juice, hot coffee and a donut for the small fee of 25¢. This enables those students who arrive at school early to study, thus missing breakfast at home, to eat their breakfast while they study.

Eleven year old swims reservoir

Tom Nicolaysen, 418 Calado Ave., and a member of the DeAnza Swim Club may be only 11 years old, but he has a first to his name. Tom swam the O'Neill forebay of the San Luis Reservoir in Los Banos Sunday, Oct. 19, both ways, a round trip of seven miles, in three hours and 43 minutes. The swim has never been attempted before, and he had to leave the water one-fourth mile before completing the entire distance because of darkness.

He was accompanied on his swim on the first leg by his 16 year old sister, Suzanna Nicolaysen, a member of the Prospect High School swim team.

Tom plans to try and swim the entire length of the Los Luis reservoir in the near future.

Section 6305. Permit Fees. Unless otherwise stated, the fee for each permit for any activity not herein provided shall be the sum of $50.00 per year payable in advance. Such a permit may be issued by the City Council upon compliance with the provisions of Sections 6300 and 6301 of this Chapter.

Section 6306. Non-Transferability of Permits.

No permit issued under this Chapter shall be transferable except by the consent of the City Council.

Section 6307. Revocation, Suspension, Hearing, Notice.

When the City Council shall issue any permit under the terms of this Chapter, the same may be revoked at any time thereafter by said City Council if said City Council becomes satisfied that the conduct of such business does or will in any manner endanger the public welfare or that the same has been conducted in an illegal, improper or disorderly manner. Said City Council may revoke or suspend permits issued for any business where the proprietor or person in charge thereof violates or permits any infraction of any law of the State or any regulation of the City.

No permit for any business shall be revoked or permanently suspended under the terms of this chapter unless the permittee shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor hereunder or unless a notice and public hearing thereof be first given the permittee, provided, however, that any such permit may be temporarily suspended without such notice or hearing by the City Council.

Section 6308. Penalty. The violation of any of the provisions of this Chapter shall be a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or imprisonment in the County jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 6309. Constitutionality, Severability.

If any section, sub-section, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance and chapters herein designated is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and the provisions of the chapters herein referred to, and each section, sub-section, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, sub-sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SECTION NINE. This ordinance is adopted as an urgency measure and is to become effective immediately upon its adoption.

The facts constituting this urgency are as follows:

That heretofore regulating and prohibiting provisions were adopted by amendment for the regulation and/or prohibiting of certain activities. That in the course of such amendment it became unclear as to whether certain regulating and permit procedures remained in full force and effect as intended by this Council. That there is imminent danger of establishment of certain activities which by their nature require regulation and control and that the same can and will be established before the City Council can adopt controlling and regulating provisions as well as provisions prohibiting certain activities. That the establishment of such activities without effective control and regulation could seriously affect the public peace, safety and general welfare of the people of the City of Campbell, and that therefore the adoption of this ordinance on an urgency basis is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, safety and general welfare of the people of the City of Campbell.

Wide-eyed in Washington

The little ladies who run our country

By Mason Sacks

As a part of the Stanford-Inter-Washington Congressional Internship Program, Mason Sacks, Campbell High School graduate, is spending his Fall quarter this year in our nation's capital. He will be serving as an Intern in the office of Senator Alan Cranston.

The Congressional Internship Program each year gives Stanford Students an opportunity to see how government functions from a first-hand point of view.

Mason, a graduate and former Student Body President of Campbell High School, was notified of his acceptance into the Internship program early in the summer. His selection was based on grades (he received all-A's during his first year at Stanford) and on recommendations. He notes that he would like to express his thanks to Mrs. Virginia Sampson and Robert Culp, Campbell High principal, for the help they gave him in this area.

During his stay in Washington, Mason will be writing a special column for The Campbell Press entitled "Wide-Eyed in Washington."

At Stanford, Mason is majoring in a special honors program which combines political science and communication. Upon graduation, he plans to enter law school.

Washington provides a home for many interesting types of people. One type that I have found to be particularly interesting is the group of women who serve as personal secretaries to our nation's esteemed Senators.

Upon first encountering these lovely ladies, it was my impression that they have the sole purpose in life of seeing that nobody, but nobody, can ever see their Senator (except maybe the President, if it was really important.) After being rebuffed several times by these secretaries, I decided to sit down and talk to a few of them, hoping to find out what their job was really all about.

The first woman I talked to was Betsy Warren, who is the personal secretary of Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts. "My job has many responsibilities," she told me, "but one of the main things I do is act as a buffer between Senator Brooke and the rest of the world. Nobody can get to the Senator unless they get through me first."

Patricia Donovan, Senator George McGovern's secretary, told me essentially the same thing. This prompted me to ask her a question: "How do you know who the Senator would want to see and who he would not want to see?"

"Well," she said after a moment, "I've been with Senator McGovern since he was in the House in 1957, and I've learned to second-guess him pretty well."

This led me to realize that personal secretaries actually play a pretty important role. Just how important a role it can be I found out in a conversation I had with Senator Barry Goldwater's secretary, Judy Rooney.

Just by chance, I asked Miss Rooney, "Do you ever talk about political issues with the Senator?"

"Oh, yes," she said. "He has my opinion all the time." "Do you think he listens," "Why, yes," she smiled. "Yes indeed."

I now realize that the personal secretaries of the Senators are far more than just bodyguards. They're the little ladies who run our country.

Taxpayers asked for estimates

Nearly half a million Californians are being notified this week to make estimate payments on their 1969 personal income tax.

Statements totaling $328 million are being sent to 467,000 taxpayers as a reminder of the Oct. 31 deadline, according to Martin Huff, executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Married couples filing jointly or single taxpayers reporting $400 or more California personal income tax in 1968 are required to file. Married couples who filed separately and reported $200 or more tax liability also must file a return.

The estimate billing is for one-half the 1968 tax, Huff said. Taxpayers have the choice of paying the amount billed or estimating the 1969 tax and paying half the amount computed.

Huff pointed out that there are penalties for underestimating as well as for delinquent payment.

Both the number of taxpayers and estimate amount are higher than in 1968, when 396,000 taxpayers were billed for a total of $279 million.

The department attempts to notify all persons whose tax liability requires them to make an estimate payment, Huff said. He emphasized, however, that any taxpayer whose 1968 tax was $400 or more or $200 if married and filing separately, must file a return by Oct. 31, regardless of whether a notice is received.

Auto accessory store offers great potential

With "do it yourself" increasingly the name of the auto maintenance game, the automotive accessory business offers "unlimited retail potential," according to a new Bank of America study.

"High labor costs and the shortage of skilled mechanics" have forced many car owners to do their own car maintenance work, the bank's periodical The Small Business Reporter notes.

Consequently, "Many small auto accessory stores have doubled and tripled their business in the past five years. The growth rate for speed shops is an almost unbelievable 400 per cent in seven years.

"In addition to preventive maintenance materials, car owners are buying many bolt-on accessory products to give their cars an air of individuality."

The report observes that many auto accessory businesses have been started on as little as $2,000, while others have required over $50,000 to get off the ground.

The Reporter includes recommendations about cost controls, inventory, locations and other practical aspects of operating an auto accessory store. It also includes the warning that many auto parts entrepreneurs find themselves working 80 hours per week.

Copies of the report may be obtained through any Bank of America Branch.

Child Center helps working parents

There's nothing like a room full of happy children. And, due to the efforts of the Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union School District Board of Trustees, Moorpark School, 649 Thornton Way, is housing youngsters from age three and over while their parents work, go to school, or participate in training programs.

Designed to provide low cost child care for middle and low income families, the "Children's Center" is accommodating 57 children, 27 of them pre-schoolers, from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday under the direction of Mrs. Linda Doig, head teacher, and Dave Gillies, Moorpark principal.

Priorities for enrollment are based on state-set standards, primarily taking children of single parent families or those with low incomes.

Children of the Campbell district are accepted first and payment varies from 6¢ to 34¢ per hour. (Full cost of the program is 56¢ per hour.)

Mrs. Doig, a former Head Start teacher, has two other full-time teachers, Mrs. Margaret Tracy and Miss Pat Sano, and a part-time teacher, Mrs. Joan De Gasperas. Six part-time aides complete the faculty.

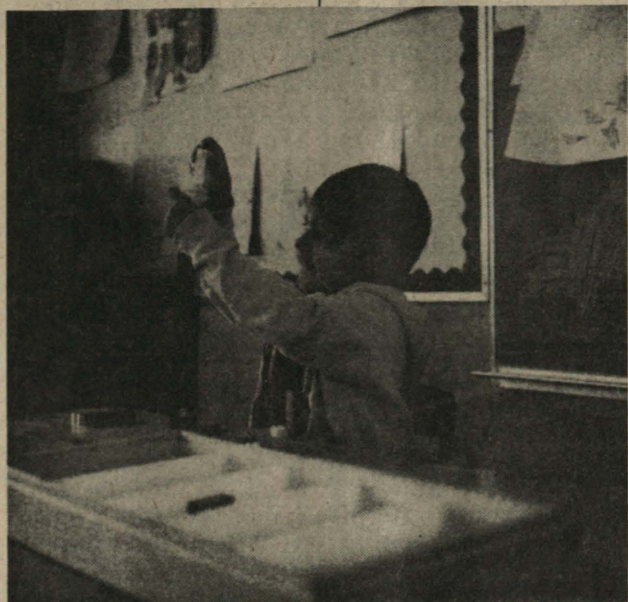

Pre-schoolers are fed a hot lunch from the school's cafeteria, while school age children are given a ticket to eat in the school lunchroom. After school, the elementary children come to the spacious rooms of the center and participate in recreation and crafts programs and have already put on their own puppet show.

The parents are drawn into the program by Mrs. Doig, who sets up conferences with them to help establish the needs of their children.

"The need for the program is evident," stated Principal Gillies, "as we are now operating at near capacity (60) and the response has been tremendous."

One object of the program is to relieve parents of worry about care of their youngsters.

Mines region of Mother Lode reveals bits of past century

Despite the gloss of modernity that has seeped into most of the historically interesting places in the world, there are still such things as towns and roads and mines that have survived the last century or so without apparent change.

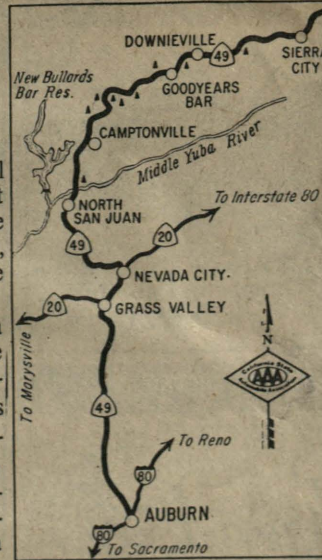

Such an area is the Northern Mines region of Mother Lode country. Armed with a map or a bit of advice that directs you to the old mines and landmarks, the California State Automobile Association says you can still explore such towns as Grass Valley, Nevada City and Downieville, plus a host of smaller settlements, and find delightfully authentic examples of everything from gabled Victorian homes to rusting mining machinery.

After gold was discovered in Coloma in 1848, prospectors came from almost every country to seek their fortunes. They spread out along the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada. The gold fields were on to Ott's Assay office, all in 15 minutes. James J. Ott was the man who tested the ore samples from Virginia City, Nevada that determined the fabulous Comstock Lode.

Fires have plagued Nevada City from the beginning. The fire of 1856 was the worst, destroying over a million dollars worth of property. The National Hotel, which, by the way, is the oldest continuously-operated hotel in California, had its beginnings as a result of this fire. It was one of the few buildings to survive the fire and was promptly leased by two men, Pearson and Healy, whose own hotel, the United States, had been destroyed in the fire.

Nevada City was also the birthplace of P.G.&E. which was formed when the many ditch companies here that supplied water to the miners consolidated. Their first general offices were in the National Hotel.

North Bloomfield and the nearby Malakoff Diggins are all part of the relatively new state historical park. An Irish prospector was the first to find gold at Malakoff in 1851 but other prospectors who followed him to the site found nothing and dubbed the place Humbug or Humbug Creek.

Later, when gold was found by others, it was named Bloomfield and then North Bloomfield.

The Malakoff Diggins are one of the world's outstanding examples of the brute force of hydraulic mining which gouged a huge canyon from the rocky ground. The state park here has 30 camp sites located in delightful stands of pine and there is a high lookout point in the campground which affords a magnificent view of the Malakoff Mine.

North Bloomfield itself has a number of beautiful old buildings that have carefully been restored, plus an imposing collection of mining artifacts and equipment. A ranger is on duty here year round.

Another town worth visiting in this secluded region that lies between the middle and north forks of the Yuba River is Alleghany. There are two roads to this town—the Ridge Road which takes off from Highway 49 just after it crosses the middle fork of the Yuba is the recommended route—and the Foote Road from North Columbia. The latter road is not recommended for any but the most adventurous drivers as it is narrow in places with a steep drop-off on one side.

Highway 49 follows the north fork of the Yuba River all the way to Downieville and Sierra City and there are no less than eight U.S. Forest Service campgrounds beautifully situated along the river on this stretch.

AT CHURCH

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Saliccia

Here's a true story about what happened one day to the great golfer Bobby Jones — and this is a story that illustrates the real meaning of the word "sportsmanship"... Jones was playing in the National Open of 1925 at Worcester... His ball went into the rough, and then accidentally moved very slightly when Jones's club touched a nearby blade of grass... Reporters later said that NOBODY saw the ball move... Jones, however, asked that he be penalized a stroke... Every-one tried to talk him out of taking the penalty because no one saw the ball move... But Jones insisted and as it turned out, that stroke cost him the title that year... Someone later asked Jones why he'd done it... He said, "That's the only way to play the game"... Is there a better definition of sportsmanship than that?

What was the longest fight on record?... Most boxing records show that the longest glove fight ever was between Andy Bowen and Jack Burke in New Orleans in 1893... Their bout lasted 110 rounds, or 7 hours and 19 minutes!... It ended as a draw when neither man could continue.

early regarded as two distinct regions, with Coloma being the approximate dividing point between the Southern and the Northern Mines. By the summer of 1849 good daily yields of gold were being taken at Deer Creek Dry Diggins, where Nevada City stands today.

Along State Highway 49 the first major town north of Interstate Highway 80 is Grass Valley. The homes of Lotta Crabtree and Lola Montez both located in the same block on Mill Street, are well known to tourists. Be sure you also visit the Empire Mine on Empire Road. This one mine produced almost a million dollars a year in gold for 91 years from 1850 to 1940.

It was the second deepest mine in the world and one record-breaking vein was followed for 9,000 feet before it gave out. Another must is the old Pelton wheel at the foot of Mill Street. This large metal wheel, thirty feet in diameter was turned by water from high pressure hoses and generated power for the North Star Mine, another great producer in Grass Valley.

Five miles north of Grass Valley is Nevada City. Despite the freeway which slices through the center of town, its charm has diminished but little. Nevada City was built on seven hills and the trails worn by the burros of the miners established the first roads.

You can walk easily up Broad St. past the National Hotel, turn right on Cottage St., and then back down the hill past the court house and

An instructional baseball winter league is now being formed in the Campbell area for interested boys in the age groups of at least 13 years old for Pony Leaguers and 12 years old for Little League members.

Additional information may be had by calling Ray Haney, 378-6994; Mac McKinney, 378-2033 or Rich Barry at 378-3626.

Hamilton are all out helping to fix up the Rincon Park diamond for the Oct. 25 opening of the Campbell winter league.

West Valley Sports

FOOTBALL

The Ray brothers, Dave and Larry, and Bill Barnes will be out to do it all once again as Contra Costa will entertain the West Valley College gridders in Camino Norte Conference action Saturday night.

The Three combine running, passing, receiving, kicking and

The three combine running, passing, receiving, kicking and scoring prowess to make West Valley a state football power. Dave has rushed for over 648 yards on the season and is one of the squad's leading receivers while brother Larry adds the scoring touch with a talented right toe and good hands at his flanker post.

Barnes is an adept passer as he is coming close to surpassing his total of 19 touchdown passes of last season with 11 to date.

CROSS-COUNTRY

After dropping five straight intercollegiate decisions, the West Valley cross-countrymen are finally picked as probable winners for their next meet. The Vikings are deemed to finish better than Solano next Friday when the two tangle at WVC's Saratoga campus.

Valley lost their fifth in a row last Friday to Santa Rosa 25-33 on the Toga course. Even though they lost by a substantial margin, West Valley runners Dan Cruz and Les DeVoe hit the tape at 21:30.5 to tie for first.

WATER POLO

Things weren't all too bright in West Valley College's water-polo pool last week. The Vikings are in the midst of one of their longest losing streaks in three years. But it isn't as bad as it may sound because they've lost only three in a row. Valley will be out to break it today, however, as they will journey to Aptos to challenge Cabrillo at 3:30 p.m.

West Valley dropped their Camino Norte Conference opener last Friday night to DeAnza.

SOCCER

Injuries have plagued the West Valley soccer team all season and have hit the Vikings hard once again. With a game coming up Saturday noon against highly ranked Skyline, two of Valley's first stringers were injured last week, one being co-captain Mike Mullenberg.

Mullenberg, a front-line forward and Vike offensive play-maker, is a doubtful starter with an ankle injury. Fullback Joe Lachnit injured his back last week but will probably play against Skyline at the first-year school's home field.

RECEIVES CERTIFICATE--Don Dore, Campbell police officer, right, is presented with the Intermediate Certificate by the Department of Justice Commission on Peace Officers Standards and Training. Making the presentation and offering congratulations is John Morgan, Campbell police chief. The certificate is the second highest award by the state of California to a police officer.

Dore has been with the Campbell Police Department for five years, serving with both traffic and patrol division. He is married and the father of two children.

NEIGHBORHOOD 17 TROOP 422

"Brownie Girl Scout Troop 422, from St. Lucy's School, invested 14 new second graders into the program last week. Brownie pins were given to Linda Alaimo, Jane Allen, Mary Berryessa, Nina Cantacessi, Barbara Carusa, Lisa Christian, Barbara Farnham, Kathleen Guina, Carolyn Manina, Julie Martin, Maureen McCarthy, Tricia Richard, Eda Marie Vincenzini and Laurie Winter.

Troop officers were also elected; Kathleen Guina as treasurer, Jeanne Clanton, assistant treasurer and Cathy Winter, secretary. Troop leaders are Mrs. P. J. Calleja, Mrs. R. G. Faler and Mrs. P. Joseph Golden. The troop meets every Tuesday after school.

Neighborhood 17 held its first Association Meeting of the new school year, last week, as 14 Girl Scout Leaders from Rosemary, Sherman Oaks, Dover and St. Lucy's schools attended.

Mrs. C. T. Mahler, Service Team member and Leader of Girl Scout Cadette Troop 13, conducted the meeting, and asked for volunteers for a Neighborhood Chairman. Mrs. W. W. Leach was introduced as the only Brownie Girl Scout Consultant available and Mrs. F. H. Clugh as the lone Junior Girl Scout Consultant for the Neighborhood. Mrs. C. D. Perston, Neighborhood Calendar Chairman, was appointed as recording secretary for the year.

Special guest of the day was Mrs. H. C. Dignam, one of the 19 women being sent from Santa Clara Girl Scout Council to the National Girl Scout Council meeting in Seattle, Washington, next week. Mrs. Dignam asked the group for suggestions concerning Girl Scout uniform changes, as well as ideas to re-vamp the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. Both subjects are on the agenda for discussion at the National Convention. Mrs. Dignam will be reflecting the view of Campbell Girl Scouts, to "Broaden The Reach" goal set by the Santa Clara Council earlier in the year.

City gets gas tax - $17,053.98

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy today announced the distribution of $63,189,259 among the State, cities and counties as the September apportionment of highway users taxes.

Santa Clara County's share was $592,129.02 and Campbell's share was $17,053.98.

A total of $13,682,141 went directly to the counties; $10,196,630 to cities; and $39,310,488 for expenditures on State highways.

The total was derived from the following sources: gasoline tax, $56,423,797; diesel fuel tax, $4,323,771; by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $2,440,681; and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

The apportionment was $4,561,877 more than that for the preceding month, principally because of the temporary one-cent-per-gallon in-

Vet's benefits offer education opportunities

The Veterans Administration pointed out recently that certain veterans benefits offer a special opportunity to a GI with limited education and income.

Former servicemen can complete high school under the G.I. Bill and still go on to college or a trade school as a student full-time at $130 a month, according to VA's Northern California Regional Manager, Gordon R. Elliott.

While these educational benefits apply to all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955, a Viet-Nam era veteran who has less than one year training beyond high school can supplement his G.I. check by getting a "transitional appointment" to work for the Federal government while attending school.

While the veteran getting a "transitional appointment" does not have to compete with others for a job, he must agree to complete one full year of education or training leading to a high school diploma or its equivalent.

Veterans who do not want further education or training are given assistance in finding a job at Veterans Assistance Centers in 21 large cities, as well as by VA offices scattered throughout the nation.

VA's pension system is based on income, and if otherwise qualified, veterans without dependents are eligible if their annual income is no more than $2,000 a year. Veterans with dependents may be eligible if their income is no more than $3,200. Payments range from $29 to $130 a month.

Veterans were reminded that procedures have been established to speed up medical care for Viet-Nam veterans. Those who develop medical problems within six months of their release are to be treated immediately when medical need is demonstrated without waiting until the veteran establishes that his ailment is service-connected.

Qualified war veterans are eligible for treatment at VA hospitals for ailments not related to military service, if they are unable to pay the cost of private care.

In recent years the VA has reversed its traditional policy of waiting until the individual veteran comes for assistance, and now actively seeks out new veterans to inform them of available benefits. Letters individualized by computer are sent to all servicemen upon discharge and local VA offices follow up with phone calls and in some instances with personal visits.

Veterans seeking further information are urged to contact their local VA office.

crease of the gasoline tax to help meet disaster relief costs from last winter's floods. Total gasoline tax income for the month increased $4,825,817. Diesel fuel tax also rose $832,144, and transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund went up $503,728.

The distribution also was $10,340,877 greater than that for September 1968. Gains of $8,761,017 in gasoline tax, $1,090,442 in diesel fuel tax, and $489,757 in transfers from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund accounted for the increase.

Drs. offices hit during weekend

Police activities during the week were confined, for the most part, to petty thefts and dealing with run-away juveniles. A medical building located at 281 E. Hamilton Ave. was broken into over the weekend and offices belonging to Drs. Edward L. Cahn, Richard Sogg and William Starr were ransacked with the burglar making off with $40 in cash. Entry was gained by prying open windows.

No new leads have developed during the week in the Luoto's Restaurant and Billy Wilson's Liquor Store robberies, kidnapping cases, although the Campbell police department and the County Sheriff's department are both working on the cases.

DON'T TAKE YOUR EYES FOR GRANTED

There is much more to good vision than people realize. Better vision can mean greater ability in every aspect of life. Although under normal circumstances your eyes will serve you as long as you live, it is important that you protect them with proper care.

Periodic check-ups are a necessity whether you wear glasses or not. Avoid strain by having the proper glasses (if you need them). Use proper lighting when reading, working or watching TV. Protect your eyes against glare. Rest them when they are tired. Sometimes a soothing eyewash or eye-drops can be helpful. We carry many of them in our pharmacy.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs.

LIFESAVERS

When road surfaces are wet and slippery, or when visibility is reduced because of rain or fog, drive at a reduced speed, says the California State Automobile Association. Allow plenty of room between your car and the one ahead. Anticipate stops and turns—think ahead. Slow down well in advance of a turn or curve, then proceed around it smoothly. When approaching a stop, apply the brakes gently, and well in advance, to avoid skidding.

Last week's demonstrations in opposition to the Vietnam War were viewed by some of official Washington as potentially explosive and harmful to the Paris negotiations. As it turned out these fears were unwarranted and the moratorium proved to be an honest exercise of America's right to dissent. In retrospect the affair now appears to have been in the national interest.

All kinds of people were involved in the moratorium for various reasons. But probably the most disappointed group were those whose motivation was to convert Vietnam into "Nixon's war". To the sober thinking majority of the nation, the points made by the speakers and the rebuttals offered, served instead to emphasize what President Nixon has been doing to stop the war.

Almost every speaker acknowledged that the President has set in motion a plan to bring 60,000 U.S. troops home from Vietnam. This amounts to 12% of American troop strength there. He has reduced the level of fighting and lowered casualties and he has assigned top priority to turning their own war over to the South Vietnamese. The President has proposed free elections and a cease-fire under international supervision.

In addition he has promised that the United States would maintain no military bases in Vietnam after the war and that we are ready to accept the political outcome arrived at through free elections.

Lastly, like his predecessors before him, he has demonstrated his willingness to negotiate in good faith. All of these points were emphasized in the fair minds of the overwhelming majority.

Conversely, the demonstrations underscored the fact that Hanoi has done nothing for peace and is actually depending on impatience in the United States to bring about a surrender. The arrogant statements of North Vietnam's Premier, Pham Van Dong, which were directly addressed to the American people and urged a strong "fall offensive," by Americans to force immediate withdrawal, was not well received by most Americans.

Interestingly enough most Members of Congress who spoke in behalf of the moratorium did not advocate immediate withdrawal. Even Senator Kennedy suggested that removal of all ground combat forces would take until December 1970 with still another year required to remove all other U.S. troops.

He recognized the logistics reality that even a decision to withdraw immediately would require several months to put into effect with grave risks to those who would be last to leave.

The discussions on moratorium day all across the nation spotlighted the realities of the situation and actually did more to emphasize our national agreement that we should continue the President's program of disengagement than it did to underline our disagreement on what the schedule of disengagement should be.

Some of the pressure which Hanoi directed against the White House will backfire. Many more Americans than I expected voiced approval for the statement in a full page ad which ran in Washington papers: "Everyone who wants peace in Vietnam should tell it to Hanoi."

The national moratorium cleared the air for national leadership. It emphasized that no group has a corner on a desire for peace and that all of us, myself included, want the United States out as soon as possible.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

John J. Cassidy, Social Security District Manager in San Jose, stated today that some Medicare beneficiaries have saved their doctor bills and delayed making a claim for reimbursement until as late as the end of the year following the year in which the services were received.

Cassidy pointed out that by doing this there is a possibility of the bills becoming lost or misplaced. This also increases the volume for the paying office at the end of the year and means that there is more chance of the payment being delayed. Sending the doctor bills in as they are received will result in getting the payment more promptly.

Persons coming into the Medicare program for the first time, and others who have been in the program but have not previously had any medical expenses, are advised to consult their Medicare Handbook or to visit their Social Security Office for assistance in filing their first Medicare claim.

The most recent change in the Medicare rules should ease the worries of many people because it provides for payment of physicians' bills based on an itemized unpaid bill.
